

LIVINGSTON COUNTY TRANSIT MASTER PLAN

WHAT

The goal of the Transit Master Plan for Livingston County is to analyze the existing system and work with project stakeholders and the public to determine what transit system enhancements could be made to improve the quality of life in Livingston County. The Transit Master Plan will explore the need for more public transportation within the County, including connections to adjacent counties, and ways to improve walkability and bikeability to support the transit system.

WHY

Public transportation provides value to both residents and businesses by providing additional transportation options, allowing people to get to work, travel to appointments, and access daily needs easily and reliably.

Livingston County has been one of the fastest growing counties in Michigan and has added more than 5,000 residents and 11,000 jobs since 2010. The County has become a desirable place to live, but high housing costs are leading to a need to import workers from other counties. In addition many residents in Livingston County work in other counties. These factors have County stakeholders considering increasing the amount of public transit service available.

WHO

Livingston County has engaged the following firms for the Transit Master Plan:

AECOM

MKSK

HOW

The project will include existing conditions research, comprehensive community engagement, and recommendations for improvements and additions to the existing transit system in Livingston County. Strengths, weaknesses, and opportunities will be explored. Service goals and objectives will be identified, and a financial and governance plan will be developed.

Feedback from stakeholders and the public will be encouraged throughout.

WHERE

Livingston County will serve as the study area for this project. The Transit Plan will take into consideration transportation of employees and residents to and from adjacent cities and counties.

WHEN

The project will span 6 months and is projected to end in late 2018/early 2019

CHECK BACK SOON FOR EVENTS AND OPPORTUNITIES TO PROVIDE FEEDBACK!